

One False Step Home

An expansion for One False Step for Mankind, for 3-6 players.

The Moon: 1850.

Where a few thousand suckers who got on some fairly harmless-looking Moon rockets last year find themselves eking out a meager living mining dust and cheese.

This month, it's time to go home.

Will it work? Probably not. But living on the Moon is enough to drive anyone crazy, even if you're not right next door to a moon cave that spits out little green men like they're goin' outta style.

It's one false step home. And maybe you'll even bring along some friends.

You Need: The original One False Step for Mankind, and all the pieces for that game. You'll also be glad to have a few extra 10-sided dice, though you can probably get along without them.
